this widely praised commentary by william lane shows mark to be a theologian whose primary aim was to strengthen the people of god in a time of fiery persecution by nero using redaction criticism as a hermeneutical approach for understanding the text and the intention of the evangelist lane considers the gospel of mark as a total literary work and describes mark s creative role in shaping the gospel tradition and in exercising a conscious theological purpose both indicating how the text was heard by mark s contemporaries and studying mark within the frame of reference of modern gospel research lane s thoroughgoing work is at once useful to scholars and intelligible to nonspecialists

based on linguistic and thematic links in the narrative the turning point in the gospel of mark argues that the twin pericopae of peter s confession 8 27 38 and the transfiguration 9 2 13 together function as the turning point of the gospel and serve in a janus like manner enabling the reader to see the author s main focus the identity of jesus and the significance of that reality for his disciples peter s confession of jesus as messiah faces backward toward the prologue 1 1 13 and functions as a mid course conclusion the declaration by god on the mountain faces forward and foreshadows the end course conclusion 14 61 62 15 39 son of god jesus in response teaches that the son of man must suffer and die before being raised from the dead 8 31 christologically the images of messiah son of man and son of god converge and present jesus the crucified as king ushering in the kingdom of god in power 9 1 acting as the key swivel between the twin pericopae when one is confronted with this jesus though there remains something elusive about him and the kingdom of god in the narrative the only wise decision after calculating the costs 8 34 38 is to follow
